ADVENTURE KIDS

April 2026

You Were Made for This

No one is exactly like you, with life experiences, skills, talents, and traits. God made you to be you.

If you are reading this it's because you are passionate about helping kids find the joy of knowing Jesus. Maybe you just started doing this journey or maybe you've been doing it for awhile. Either way, you probably know one thing: leading kids isn't easy.

Kids are unpredictable and full of energy. They are full of questions and emotions. They keep you on your toes and sometimes step on them, too. Yet, they are full of energy because their world feels full of potential. They have questions because every day presents them with new discoveries. Every day, they are building the very foundations of their lives. And this is where you come in....

You, not because you're a Bible scholar or because you have everything figured out, but because you know how Jesus has changed your life, and you want to share that joy with kids entrusted to you. That is why you are here, but you don't have to do it alone.

In Adventure Kids we are friends, coaches, family. We are here to support, encourage and challenge each other to lead the next generation.

Life is better together!

Thank you for making me so wonderfully complex! Your workmanship is marvelous-how well I know it. Psalms 139:14
